

Status Report on rootbeer

Some key takeaways from the contributions in the project's lifetime:

- The project first started out with only around four contributors
- All of the contributors mostly worked on the project between the start of the project and 300 weeks in
- Recently, only Niall Scott, Scott Alexander-Bown, and Artsem Kurantsou have been working on the project
- Overall, Niall Scott has been working on the project the most
- The last three authors in the legend

To do this status report, I made use of multiple git commands such as git log to show all of the commits of the project. I also made use of git branch to create a new branch of the repo as well as git merge to merge code that I worked on in the branch with other branches.
