

RootBeer Executive Summary

By: Brenda Coronado

The rootbeer project is a critical component of our software portfolio, focused on providing security features for Android applications. This report highlights the key contributors, recent development trends, and actionable insights derived from the project's activity

Key Highlights:

1. Project Activity

- Project has remained consistently active with a total of 17 unique source files and contribution over 33 developers

2. Top Contributors

- Most active contributors include Niall Scott, Scott Alexander and Artsem Kurbanau who collectively account for the majority of file touches.

3. Recent Work

- Recent commits indicate a focus on refactoring and security updates

Git Commands Used:

- `git log --stat`
- `git commit -`
- `git log --since=<date>`

Link to my fork: <https://github.com/BrendaCoronado/Group-1.git>